Eveready MD: Big areas 'unattended' in earlier regime

MITHUN DASGUPTA Kolkata, November 6

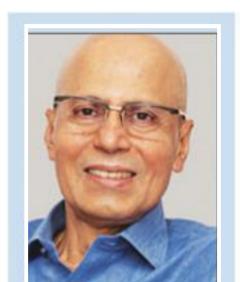

DRY CELL BATTERY major Eveready Industries left big opportunity areas unattended under the Khaitans, according to managing director Suvamoy Saha said. "The company is now making investments in brands and distributions. These investments were lacking in the previous years," Saha said during Eveready's second quarter earnings call.

Saha assumed charge as MD of the battery major in March after then chairman Aditya Khaitan and managing director Amritanshu Khaitan resigned following an open offer from the Burmans, the promoters of Dabur India.

"The new management is trying to bring in professionalism to the company. The whole team consists of professional management. I would say there is a lot of emphasis being put on peopleworkingenthusiastically in an entrepreneurial manner... and beyond that a lot of actions are being [taken] on corporate governance,"Saha said, replying to a query on the cultural change under the new management.

After the completion of the open offer in June, the Burman family reclassified themselves as promoters of Eveready in July. The company appointed former Dabur chief Anand Chand Burman as chairman.

"In the earlier years, there were fewer charges on account of advertising and distribution investments. We are incurring those amounts now. Our present profitability statements
